Personnel Department, Level 9
Ninewells Hospital & Medical School
Dundee, Scotland, UK DD1 9SY

Dear Ms. Blair:

Thank you for your letter of June 22, 1995. I am writing to confirm that I formally accept the offer of appointment as a consultant neurological surgeon at the Dundee Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust on full time basis. I shall forward my job plan nearer to the time of commencement of the post.

Further to our conversation on June 15, 1995, I look forward to join the department as soon as possible and when I hear from you, I will make the appropriate arrangement of my re-location in Dundee.

Thanks again, and I look forward to hearing from you again.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr Eljamel

APPOINTMENT OF CONSULTANT NEUROSURGEON

1. With reference to your application and to your interview on 14th June 1995, by an Advisory Appointments Committee constituted by the Dundee Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust, I write on behalf of the Trust Board to offer you the appointment of Consultant Neurosurgeon with effect from a date to be mutually agreed.

2. The duties associated with the appointment will be in accordance with the information given in the advertisement for the post and in the statement of further particulars about it issued to applicants, a copy of which is attached.

3. The appointment will be on a whole-time or maximum part-time basis at your option with remuneration in accordance with the main salary for Consultants. In this connection, it should be noted that a Consultant holding a maximum part-time appointment will receive 10/11ths of the whole-time salary on the basis that his/her National Health Service commitment will occupy substantially the whole of his/her professional time and that he/she will undertake a minimum work commitment equivalent to ten notional half days. For a whole-time appointment the scale is at £40,620 per annum rising by annual increments to £52,440 per annum. For a maximum part-time appointment (ten notional half days per week) the salary scale is £36,927 per annum increasing by annual increments in proportion to the increments for the whole-time scale to a maximum of £47,673 per annum. Your commencing salary will be on the minimum point of the Consultant scale, i.e. £40,620 per annum if you elect to serve on a whole-time basis or £36,927 if you elect to serve on a maximum part-time basis.

4. The terms and conditions of your employment at the time of your appointment and until further notice will be in all respects as determined by the Secretary of State for Scotland for application to Hospital Medical and Dental Staff in the NHS in Scotland. Future changes to these will be as determined by the Trust and until such time as local policies for determining pay and conditions of employment for hospital medical staff have been agreed by the Trust and implemented, the Trust will in applying any changes, take due account of amendments to the terms and conditions of service for Hospital Medical and Dental Staff (Scotland) and the Personnel Department.

5. It is a condition of this employment that we are satisfied of your medical fitness to carry out your duties and in this connection please complete the enclosed medical questionnaire and return it to the Occupational Health Service in the attached envelope.

   This post has been identified as one involving exposure-prone procedures and it is a condition of this offer of employment that we are satisfied that you have been immunised against Hepatitis B. You are therefore required to produce documentary evidence of such immunisation and any antibody test results.

6. The offer of this appointment is subject to this Trust successfully obtaining a work permit to allow you to take up this post. The Trust, however, reserves the right, should the process of application become protracted, to review the situation in five months time.

7. I should be pleased if you will confirm in writing your acceptance of the appointment as soon as possible and let me know whether you wish to serve on a whole-time or maximum part-time basis. A formal letter will then be sent to you in due course setting out in full the terms of your appointment, in accordance with the information already provided in the advertisement, in the further particulars of the post, and in this letter. The formal letter and your acknowledgement of it will constitute your contract with the Trust.

8 With regard to removal expenses - as you are not employed in the National Health Service, you are not eligible for removal expenses. However, without guaranteeing you a favourable response, I can say that the trust will consider applications for assistance where this policy is likely to cause hardship, and do on occasions make a small ex gratia payment. I must at this stage, however, stress that each case is considered on its individual merits.

Yours sincerely

Director of Human Resource Management

Dear Sir, / Madam;

With reference to your advertisement of consultant neurosurgeon post based at Dundee Royal Infirmary, I hereby formally apply for this job. I have completed my training in neurosurgery in Liverpool and Dublin and doing some time in the USA. I am very keen to return to the British Islands permanently. I have enclosed my CV for scrutiny.

Although, I am a permanent resident of the USA, I will need a work permit to work in the United Kingdom. I will be very grateful if my application is considered and look forward to hear from you soon.

Yours sincerely;
